

Tips and appointments Where to go on the weekend?

Photo: Courtesy Marianna Simnett and Jerwood / FVU Awards
Marianna Simnett "Blood In My Milk" (film Still), to be seen at the Kunsthalle Zurich

Monopoly text

The art of the week in Berlin, Hamburg, Paris, Stralsund and Zurich

You can find more exhibitions in the "Shows" section

Date
12/13/2019

Marianna Simnett in Zurich

"Lab Rats" is the name of the exhibition with interdisciplinary works by the artist Marianna Simnett in the Kunsthalle Zurich. The viewer becomes part of a kind of experiment, maybe a laboratory rat? He is exposed to the impressions of video installations, some of which also cause physical reactions. Marianna Simnett dissects the human body in the camera. Ideas of childhood innocence meet medical interventions and surrealistic events in organisms. An udder becomes a huge film set, strange things are operated out of a girl's nose.

Marianna Simnett's works in Zurich form a course consisting of video, light and space installations as well as sculptures and drawings. The British artist wants to question the standardized understanding of experiencing physicality and explore its limits.

"Lab Rats" Kunsthalle Zurich, December 14 to February 9, 2020

Opening: December 13, 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

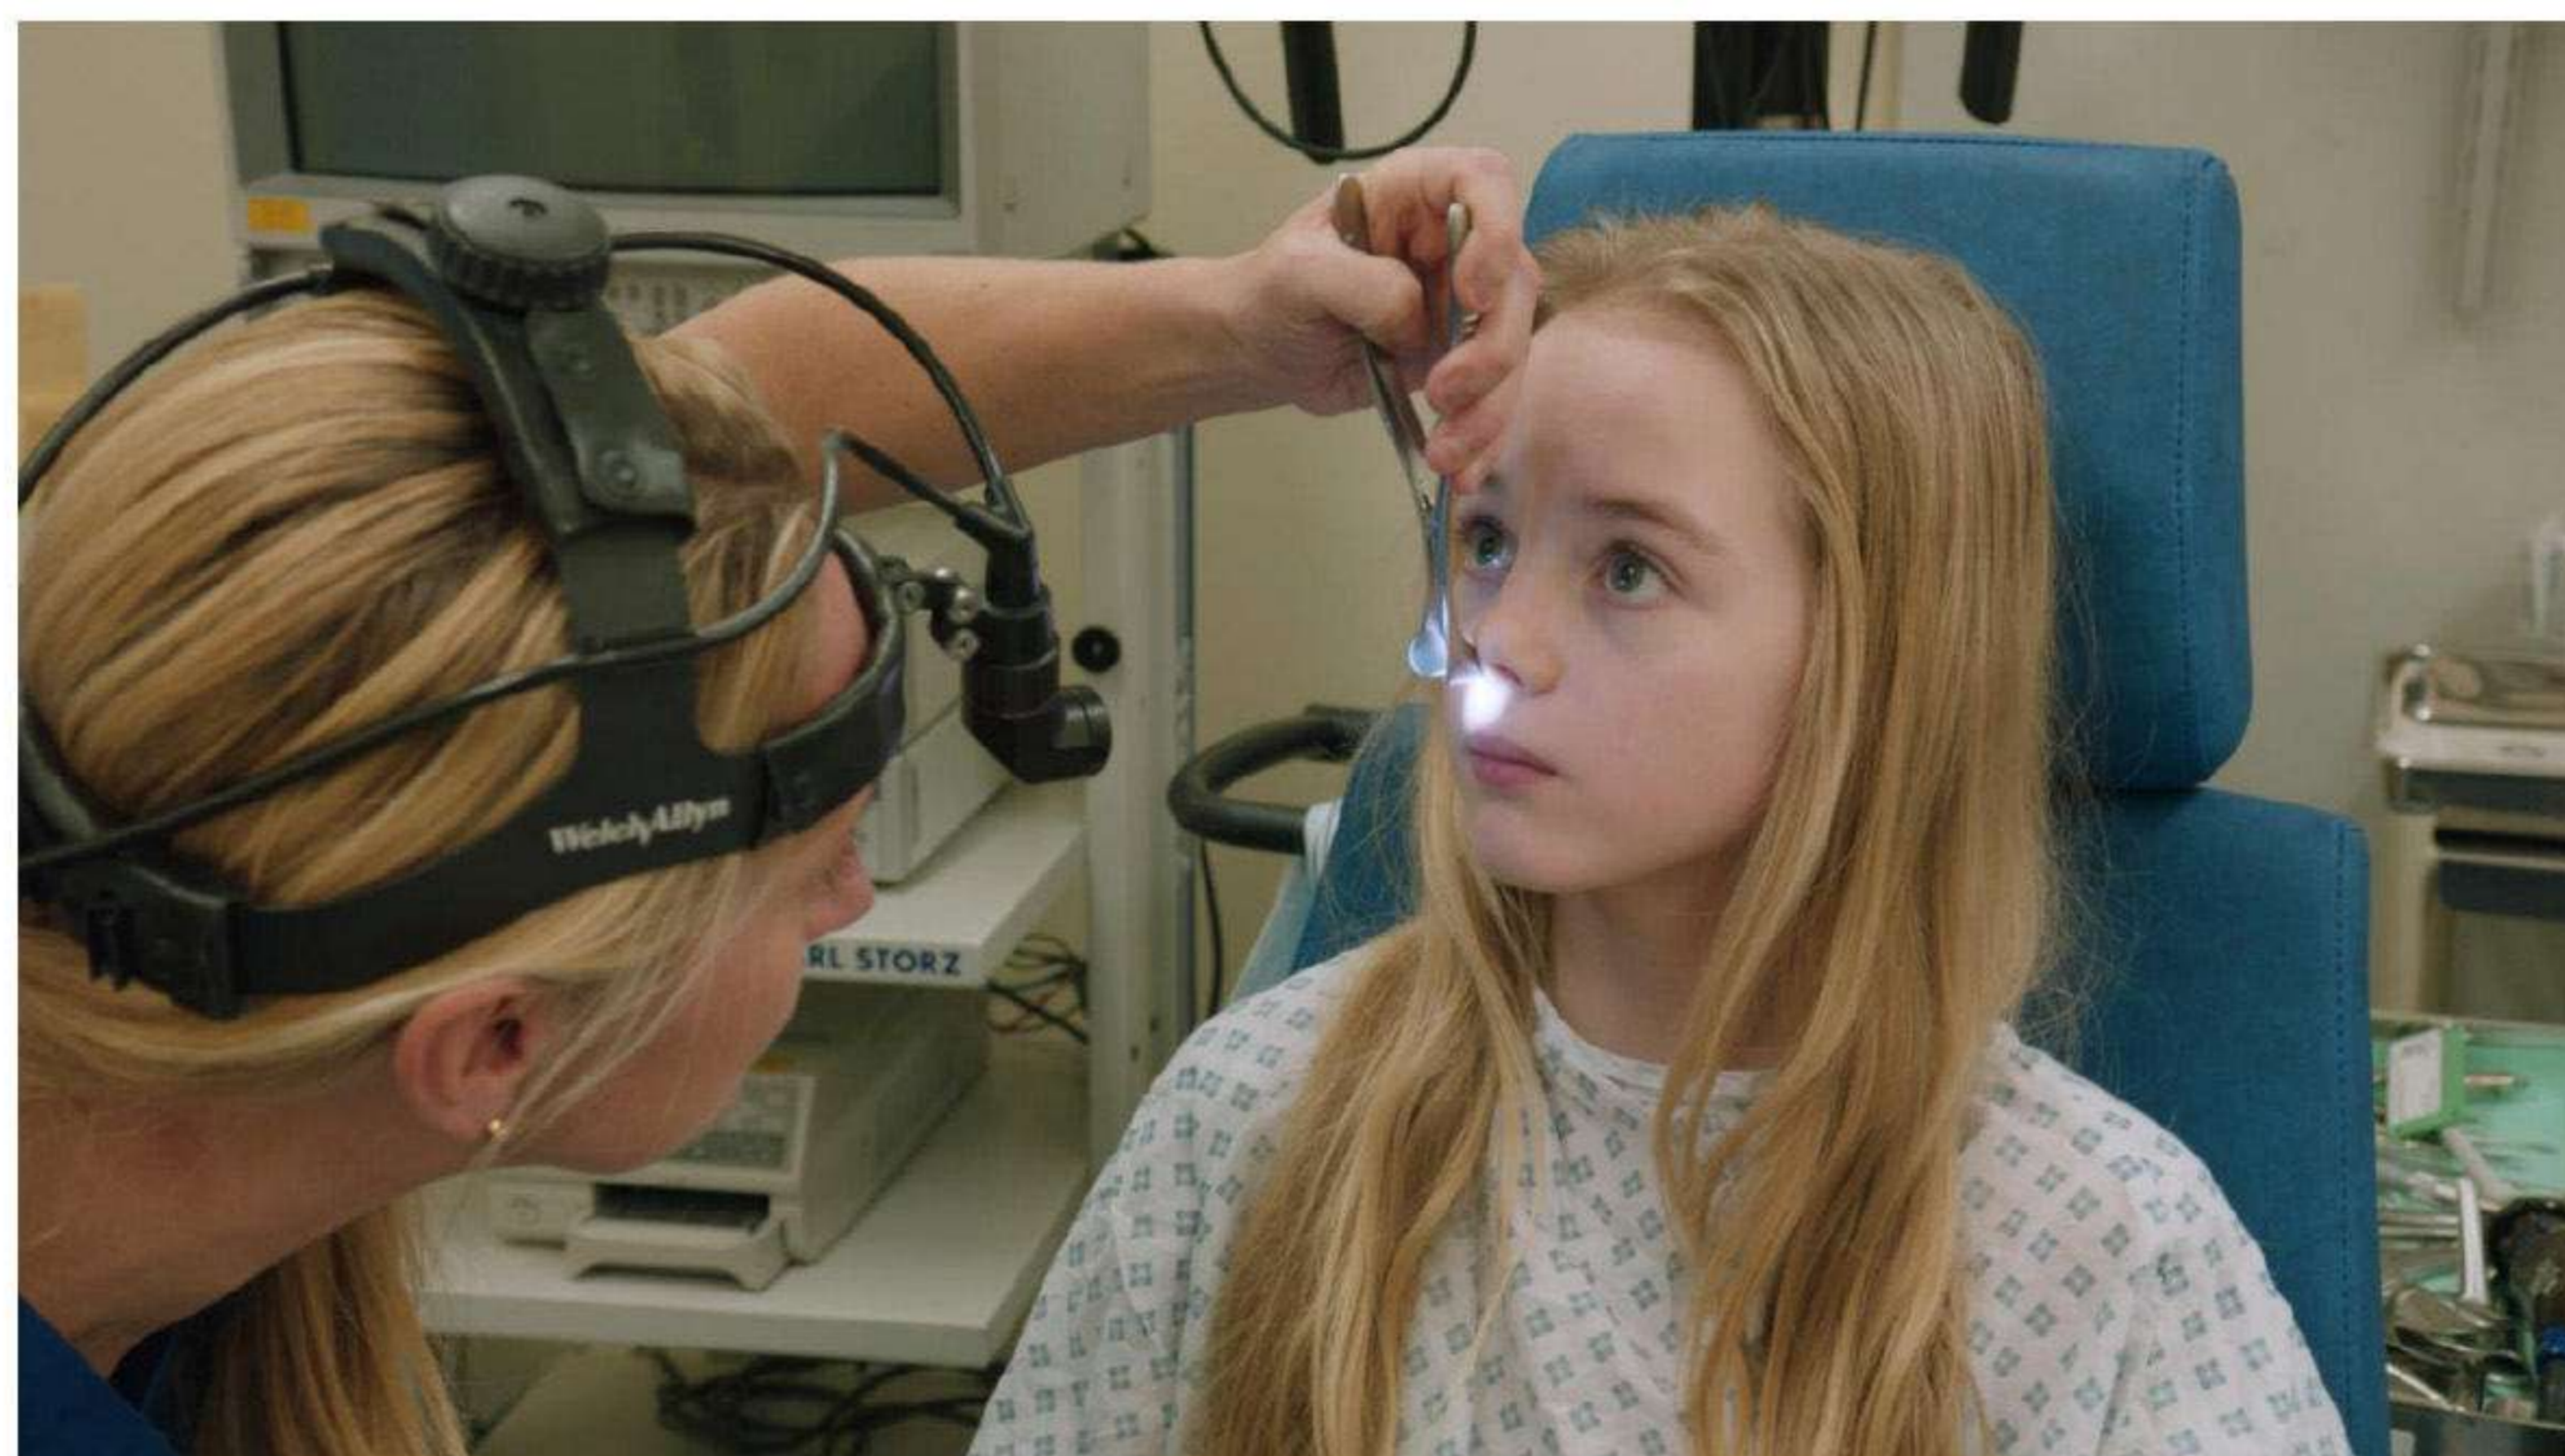

Photo: Courtesy Marianna Simnett and Jerwood / FVU Awards
Marianna Simnett: "Blood In My Milk" (Film Still), 2018